DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This particular "well tree" (or pump) serves as a good example of an utilitarian object once quite common in Carroll County. Though still frequently found these primitive pumps are swiftly disappearing from the countryside.

This pump deserves special note as it is not protected within a town or museum complex (such as at Uniontown or the Carroll County Farm Museum). Situated on the ~~W.~~ side of Md. Rte. —* it is easily visible to the passerby but only if he is familiar with its crude style and intended function. Unfortunately this pump is also accessible to vandals and steps should be taken to prevent it from being harmed — or removed.

* N. side of Miller's Station Road
Approx 1/2 mile from the Miller's Station
Road and WATER TANK ROAD junction.
